TYPES OF DATA PROCESSED AND PURPOSES OF PROCESSING

Browsing data

During their normal use, the computer systems and software procedures used to operate this site acquire certain personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

This category of data includes the IP addresses or domain names of the computers and terminals accessed by users, addresses of resources requested in URI/URL notation (Uniform Resource Identifier/Locator), the time of request, the method used to submit that request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numeric code indicating the status of the response given by the server (successful, error, etc.) and other parameters concerning the operating system and software environment of the user.

These data are necessary for the use of web services, and are also processed for the purposes of:

- obtaining statistical information regarding the use of those services (most-visited pages, number of visitors by time block or day, geographical location of origin, etc.)
- monitoring the proper functioning of the services offered.

Browsing data persists according to the GOOGLE supplier’s time frame.

Data communicated by the user

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of messages to MasterTraining contact addresses, as well as the compilation and submission of forms present on the Master Training websites, involves the acquisition of the sender’s contact data necessary for response, along with any personal data included in the communication.

Specific information shall be published on the pages of the Master Training sites intended for the provision of certain services.

Cookies and other tracking systems

Cookies are not used for user profiling, nor are any other methods of tracking used.

Session (non-persistent) cookies however are used, in a manner strictly limited to what is necessary for secure and efficient navigation of the sites. The storage of session cookies in terminals or browsers is under the user's control, while on the servers, at the end of HTTP sessions, information regarding cookies is recorded in the service log. More detailed information is provided in the "cookie policy" section.
